FLORIDA SOUTHERN COLLEGE

LAKELAND, FLA.

IN SEARCH OF WISDOM

The weeks, the months, the years we've spent at Florida Southern seem to blend together as we stand at today looking at the past. Time, the gentle deceiver, plays its favorite tune as the outline of one day fades into the outline of the next. We are left to remember with affection and appreciation those people and times in which we invested a part of our lives, and through which we found contentment and joy.

We are an odd assortment of people, we who make up the Florida Southern population, but though our backgrounds and goals differ greatly there is still a binding factor. That factor is the quest for knowledge. We are here, as students, to learn and grow and find the truth of things. And in that search for truth our quest takes on a higher goal. Many begin to seek wisdom as well as knowledge. Knowledge is defined as all that can be known or learned. Wisdom is not simply the intellectual process of learning that takes place in our classes. It is an inner knowledge, strong and steadfast. It is the knowledge of God.

For most of us, our journey through Florida Southern began in the fall. Autumn is a time of change, of uncertainty. But it is also a time of expectation and so we came . . . expectant, eager, willing to learn, anticipating new experiences. We built relationships. We sought to understand in more depth than ever before ourselves, our neighbors and our world.

For some, winter came too quickly. The winter of our journey brought the chill of disillusionment, the face-to-face confrontation with reality that makes us long for the wonder world we used to live in. Gone were the streamers and the glitter. Life was a serious business in which success or failure was up to us alone. It was time for us to begin the search for this elusive thing called wisdom, suddenly so necessary to our survival.

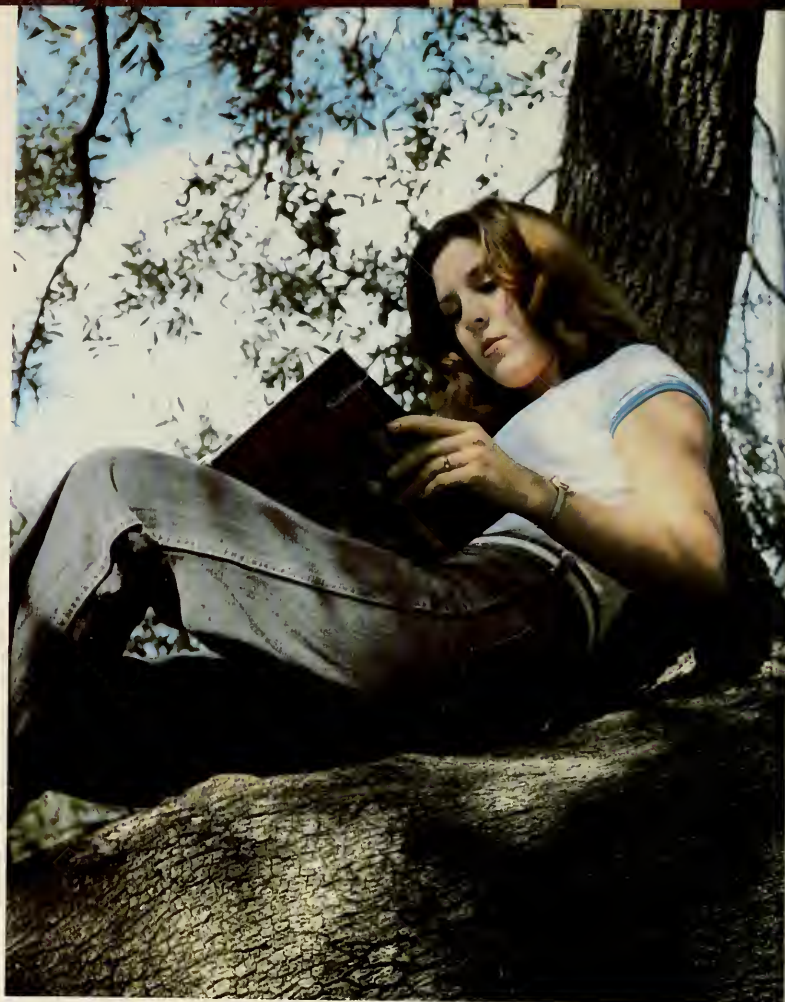

With spring came a new surge of strength, the energy to pursue regardless. Wisdom became a concrete goal, something to strive for with heart, mind and soul. Spring is a time for remembering, counting the past as experience to learn and grow from. And it is perhaps in the spring of our journey, at last, that we meet with God and find it is He who we have been seeking all along. And a new journey begins.

Wisdom is the goal, and the candle is the Christian symbol for wisdom. It symbolizes Jesus Christ, that flame in the darkness. Two candles together portray the dual nature of Christ, that of human and divine. Three candles stand for the trinity, the unbreakable circle of Father, Son, and Spirit. Six candles portray the six attributes of the Creator: wisdom, majesty, power, love, mercy, and justice.

The candle, with its burning light, represents the wisdom of eternity, that truth that we seek. There is but one answer and it is that answer we must find. It is the light that we strive for, that illumination of mankind that Jesus meant when he said, "I have come into the world as light . . ." (Jn. 12:46). In order to understand ourselves, each other, and our world, we must first come to an understanding of God. This is the essence of wisdom.

A

"The first step to wisdom is the fear of the Lord, and the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding; for through Me your days will be multiplied and years will be added to your life." (Proverbs 9:10-11)

Thus spoke an ancient sage. And were he to speak today, in 1980, how might he speak of wisdom, of the heart, of the relationship with the Holy One, the Lord? Perhaps this way:

"Wisdom is knowing that the truth of life is simply that we are most alive when, in the midst of our tearing around in our busyness trying to do something, we stop once in awhile and just let ourselves be who we are.

"Wisdom is when, by unclenching our fists, we let life have a chance to do something with us. Wisdom is when we take the little piece of time that we have in this world and pay attention to what it is telling us; not just what it is telling us about the beauty of a flower or a sunset, but also to what it is telling us about all the wildness and strangeness and pain of things, the tears of things as well as the joy of things.

"Wisdom includes our intuition as well as our reason, the wisdom of the flesh as well as the wisdom of the mind. There are dreams to listen to, as well as stereotypes. Wisdom is knowing that we are really alive when we listen to each other, when the walls between us crumble a little.

"Wisdom is knowing that we are really alive when we manage somehow to love: When we love the mystery and beauty that loom vast just beneath the surface, when we look at each other and say, "Grace and peace be with you, sister, brother, friend."

"Happy is the one who has found wisdom."

"The first step to wisdom is the fear of the Lord . . ."

STUDENT LIFE

OPPORTUNITIES FOR LEARNING AND GROWTH

Student life at Florida Southern College allows the student to pursue those things which she or he as an individual values as important, to set goals and meet the challenge of reaching those goals.

Student life is an outlet for creativity, enabling us to learn more about ourselves and others. Those who are afraid to dare, to try out their wings, or fear the possibility of failure are those who deem student life as inadequate to meet their needs.

The key to successful student life is entering into it with an attitude of learning. You are the student and the experience or challenge is the teacher.

Student life is similar to any other class we participate in, yet our life as a student obtains more for us than mere credits to add towards graduation. One way or another our lives are shaped by the experiences we partake in, and these experiences also prepare us for the years that lie ahead outside of college.

Student life reveals and teaches that there are many realms to become involved in, but we must pursue them wholeheartedly. As it is in life, a half-hearted effort too often results in wasted time.

To realize our individuality we must draw out the creativity which lies within us, putting a handle on that creativity so that we may take hold of it and master it. The control of creativity enables us to discover new interests in life because with it we can create a challenge or goal worthy of striving toward. The things which can be mastered by the individual are only limited by a lack of creativity and "stick-to-it-ivness."

When striving toward a goal, you must desire to reach it with sincere motivation. To accomplish a task based on other people's expectations will only cause you to look back to determine your progress instead of looking ahead to the finish line of that goal.

When you determine the goal or challenge, you are more inclined to pursue it with confidence.

If you have always thought of student life as merely a chance to escape from school and studies, perhaps now you will see that it is actually one of our richest opportunities for learning and growth in our quest for wisdom.

Student life encompasses the total college experience.
It is not confined to extra curricular activities alone . . .

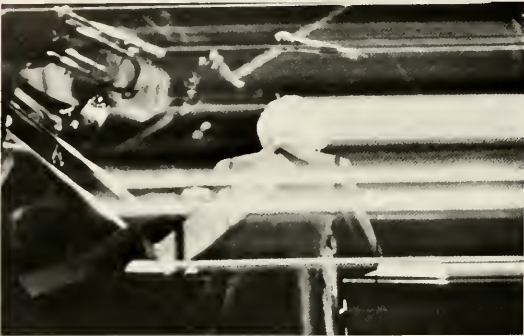

Discovering our potential as a person both academically and socially gives us a greater insight about ourself and others. We then pave the way for a better understanding of life ...

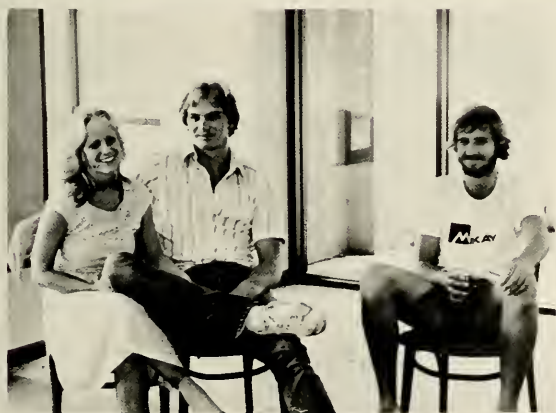

To embrace the opportunities of life, to learn and then to share our understanding with others, is to accept the richest challenge of all . . .

We should never be afraid to achieve those things we deem as valuable. Rather, we should consider it a step backward to decline the opportunity of learning . . .

Student life allows us to assert our individuality, to make a mark and reach goals that we value as important ...

The possibilities of what we can become are virtually limitless. All we need are the tools of development which we obtain from experiencing life and all that it has to offer . . .

We must dare to be unique in a world that dictates conformity. Striving to the top of our dreams and making those dreams reality . . .

FOR UNTO US
A CHILD IS BORN

In pursuing relationships, we not only learn about others ... we learn infinitely more about ourselves ...

In the quest for wisdom the daily experience of confronting new ideas and new activities adds to the store of acquired information, and forms the stepping stones towards our goal ...

Student Life is ... making U's and V's in ad design ... recitals in Annie Pfeiffer ... Fine Arts ... midnight pizza ... intramurals ... Convo ... interning ... "The Will" ... sailing trips ... roller skating ... MASH ... basketball ... checking the mail ... Greeks ... dynamic, witty, intelligent, adventurous, humble, die-hard independents ... fellowship ... crushes ... loving, sharing, caring ... growing ... seeking wisdom.

NOTABLES

WORKING TOWARD EXCELLENCE, ATTAINING INDIVIDUAL SUCCESS

There are always those students who deserve special recognition for their achievements throughout the year. Florida Southern College's notables are those students who have excelled both academically and in leadership qualities. The Interlachen sets aside this section to spotlight these students: our notables.

The Miss Interlachen contest is a beauty pageant sponsored by the yearbook, in which pictures of the contestants are sent to a celebrity to be judged.

The Miss Southern contest is a competition based on both beauty and campus involvement. Contestants are nominated by various organizations and are voted on by the student body. Miss Southern must be a senior with academic and leadership qualities.

Each year several students are awarded membership in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." These students are selected on the basis of academic excellence, campus involvement, and leadership qualities.

Students chosen for the "Greek Hall of Fame" are recognized for their leadership qualities and contributions to the Greek system.

Winners of the talent show, sponsored by the SUB, are chosen by a panel of judges on the basis of talent and poise. Southern has some very talented students, and the competition is always tough.

The Honor Walk award is the highest award given by Florida Southern College. Each year the Honor Walk recipient is chosen on the basis of academic record, campus leadership, and contribution to the campus community.

The winners of these titles and honors are leaders in our college community and deserve to be recognized as such. Their achievements reflect on Florida Southern and are a part of what Southern represents.

As President Davis said, "If we had to choose one word to describe our goal it would be excellence. Summed up in this word is our commitment to intellectual excellence, physical excellence, moral and spiritual excellence."

The quest for excellence requires motivation, the desire to achieve one's highest potential. It is an individual goal and an individual commitment. And commitment and dedication are important words in striving for excellence, for without these qualities, the goal cannot be reached. To work toward excellence in all areas is admirable, and the attainment of individual success is praiseworthy.

DR. HENRY C. HARTJE, JR..

He lectures intensely and expects his students to analyze, deliberate, and internalize certain mathematical concepts. With shrewd insight he assists students as they struggle for understanding, then rejoices with them when the answers suddenly "click into place". This man, a dedicated Christian, is down-to-earth. He understands what it means to work hard to attain a goal. Dr. Hartje came to Florida Southern in 1965 from Parkin, Arkansas, where he taught mathematics and served as principal in a high school. Presently the head of the Mathematics Department at FSC, Dr. Hartje is a man who has earned our admiration. We dedicate this book to him with heartfelt thanks.

With much respect and appreciation for his keen professionalism, the 1980 Interlachen is dedicated to ...

For attaining Florida Southern College's highest achievement in the areas of scholarship, leadership, and contribution to the College Community, Kim Alexander has been chosen 1980 Honor Walk Student. Kim has served as chairman of the JA's, Clerk of AWS, Vice President of Phi Chi Theta, and secretary for the Student Affairs Committee. She was selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and Omicron Delta Kappa. A member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, Kim was a contestant this year for Miss Southern. She has been a President's Scholar, and also served as a Miss Molly for freshmen girls. Congratulations to Kim Alexander, 1980 Honor Walk Student.

MISS INTERLACHEN 1980

SARA STARKS

Sara Starks, Florida Southern's Miss Interlachen 1980, is a familiar face on campus. A Music Management major, Sara is able to play every instrument in the band plus the piano and organ. Her campus activities include membership in Alpha Delta Pi sorority, Sigma Chi little sister, concert band, and the Miss Interlachen pageant.

INTERLACHEN JUDGE 1980: MISS JO ANN PFLUG

Actress Jo Ann Pflug was chosen to be this year's Miss Interlachen Judge. Jo Ann had the difficult task of selecting Florida Southern's Miss Interlachen and two runners-up from the photographs of the ten original finalists. Ms. Pflug is a familiar face to most from her weekly appearances on Candid Camera. She also has been involved in guest appearances and commercials. A great deal of thanks goes to Jo Ann Pflug for her assistance in FSC's beauty pageant.

HONORARY CHANCELLOR 1980

Mrs. Edna Pearce Lockett, Florida Cattle rancher, business and community leader, pioneer woman legislator and politician, Florida Southern College graduate and trustee, is the 46th in a long line of distinguished national and international leaders to serve as the Honorary Chancellor of Florida Southern College. It is with pleasure that we welcome Mrs. Lockett, a distinguished member of one of Florida's most distinguished families.

SUB TALENT SHOW

This year's SUB talent show was a show which captured the hearts of both amateurs and professionals. From the many talented individuals were chosen 3 winners. Receiving first place was 1) Mary Watson. Second place went to 2) Martha Hester, and third place 3) went to the combined talents of Rick Forrest and Mike Abate.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES.

Thirty-two students were selected from among the student body at Florida Southern to appear in the 1979-80 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. These students were chosen based on their academic achievement, service to community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

ORGANIZATIONS

AN IN-ROAD TO INVOLVEMENT

Involvement and participation play an important role in our years at Florida Southern. Extra-curricular activities provide an in-road to such involvement. The types of organizations at Southern are as diverse as the people who make them up, and somewhere, there is a club for everyone (if only as a member of the yearbook staff.) Southern attempts to meet the needs and interests of all students by encouraging a wide variety of organizations.

Southern has a number of honorary fraternities, which are organized by various departments of the college and many of which have national affiliations. These organizations are established to recognize outstanding students for leadership, service, and academic achievements. They also help to stimulate interest in the different programs and to develop sound academic and professional attitudes.

There are many student clubs which provide more informally for students with similar interests.

Organizations for the performing arts are quite active at Southern. The Vagabonds is the dramatic club, which is open to all students with an interest in acting or play production. The Vagabonds produce four plays a year, as well as compete in state competition. In the music field, there are several bands and choirs which perform regularly.

As a Methodist-related college, Florida Southern encourages participation in religious activities and supports a number of denominationally-sponsored groups.

The Student Government Association represents the student body in matters involving college administration, faculty, and the student body itself. SGA consists of the Student Senate, the Association of Women Students, and Men's Student Government Association, and all full-time students, who serve as voting members of the association.

One of the most active organizations on campus is the Student Union Board. The SUB plans, implements, and promotes a wide range of activities for the entertainment of the student body. Their activities include skating parties, Friday night movies, canoeing trips, and coffeehouses. All students are welcome to serve on the SUB.

Student publications include The Interlachen and The Southern, and all interested students are eligible to seek staff positions.

Participation in extra-curricular organizations adds another dimension to our years at Florida Southern. It provides an outlet for meeting people, being a part of something, and having fun all at the same time. It is a break from the discipline of academia which takes up so much of our time. It is a chance to do some of the things that you really want to do and to be involved in something to whatever extent you want to be involved.

College organizations are meeting places for people who might turn out to be a lot like yourself. You can make some lasting friendships and meet some valuable acquaintances.

Belonging to a club or organization allows you to work on something you're interested in — other than schoolwork — or to learn about something new. And all of it can be a great deal of fun. Those late nights spent working on a project could turn out to be some of your more memorable experiences.

Being involved and learning to work with others is a part of our college years. And it is something that will stay with us after graduation. Doing that little something extra — something that has no effect on our GPA — is a part of that wisdom for which we seek.

The Florida Southern College Concert Band was reorganized in 1969, under the direction of James F. Slutz. Since that time, the Band has continued to grow in both numbers and musical stature. The Band enjoys a very active schedule throughout the year, presenting four programs in connection with the Festival of Fine Arts series on the campus, touring a portion of the state of Florida in February, and presenting concerts for other special occasions both on and off campus. The Band has grown into the largest student organization on campus and has earned statewide recognition for excellence. The Florida Southern College Dixieland Band was first formed in the fall of 1970, a breakaway group from the college Concert Band. This musical organization performs jazz music in the Dixieland tradition. The Band regularly performs on tour with the Concert Band, and presents numerous concerts both on and off campus throughout the year.

GREEKS

SEEKING THE HEIGHTS WITH OTHERS

The Greek life at Florida Southern College is a full and active one. There is nearly always one Greek activity or another taking place, whether it's a Monday night chapter meeting, a car wash, or a Spring weekend at the beach. With eleven national fraternities and six national sororities on campus, Greeks make up a great portion of our student body. Fraternities and sororities are social organizations designed to enrich the student's life beyond academics. They are based on ritual, loyalty, and brotherhood.

The Greek system is one of unity. It allows students to strive for common ideals, to reach out and work together to attain those ideals. Members grow not only as separate persons but also as a group. Philanthropies and community services provide a common interest and serve as unifying forces for both the individual organizations and Greeks as a whole. Big joint successes this year were the Alpha Chi — Theta Chi Dance-A-Thon, ADPi — Pi Kapp Haunted House, and ADPi — SAE Greek Sing. Fund raisers, parties, intramurals: all are based on togetherness and teamwork.

There's a special closeness that grows from this unity. The relationships shared between pledge trainers and pledge classes, big sisters and little sisters, and big brothers and little brothers are like no other relationships. Through pledgeship, road trips, pranks, and finally initiation, members form a strong bond of friendship, of brotherhood.

This closeness does not exclude individuality, for within this framework, members can strive for personal goals and celebrate individual achievements. The fraternity or sorority provides a foundation from which its members can build and a base to which they can always return.

Perhaps primarily within the Greek system there is continuity. From one pledge class to the next, ideals, creeds, rituals, and friendships are passed along, and a sense of community fosters and flourishes. There is permanence, a lifetime, in this unity.

Every January, many freshmen consider whether or not they want to be a part of the Greek life at FSC. It is their first opportunity to go through Rush, and many have anxiously awaited the day when they would wear Greek letters. Regardless, Rush is a time to meet people, and the days of Rush can turn into a whirlwind of parties, names, and faces. The excitement builds with each new invitation to a party, until it culminates in the tears, smiles, and laughter of Bid Day.

Therein lies a new beginning. Joining the Greek life is a path you might take in your search for wisdom, making it less of a solitary search. Becoming a member of a fraternal order allows you to seek the heights with others and through others. It sheds a different light before you and casts a different glow on your quest for knowledge, truth, and wisdom.

SPORTS

BUILDING TEAMWORK, COOPERATION AND SPIRIT IN THE WINNING TRADITION

Sports are a part of the winning tradition of Florida Southern College. With several intercollegiate sports and a full schedule of intramurals, the athletic program is an active one. And Southern has a history of turning out winners.

The Moccasins are members of the NCAA Division 2, the Sunshine State Conference, and are charter members of the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW). The men's basketball team and the baseball team are both ranked nationally. The volleyball team finished their 1979 season with a ranking of third in the state. Other varsity teams include women's basketball, men's and women's tennis, golf, and soccer, all of which Southern can be proud. We also have a new cross-country team and a new ski team which placed third in national competition.

FSC also fields a number of intramural teams, with each dorm, fraternity, and sorority participating. The intramural schedule includes such sports as flag football, softball, soccer, basketball, volleyball, archery, canoeing, and table tennis.

And Southern has its share of non-organized sports such as raquetball, frisbee, jogging, biking ...

To some degree Southern's sports affect us all, whether it is as a varsity player, a participant in intramurals, a week-end raquetball player, or simply as a spectator. Everyone has seen the "Pull for the Florida Southern Mocs" and "Push the Florida Southern Mocs to the Top" stickers on nearly every door on campus!

For some, it provides a way to meet people, and participate as a member of a group. For others, it is simply an outlet.

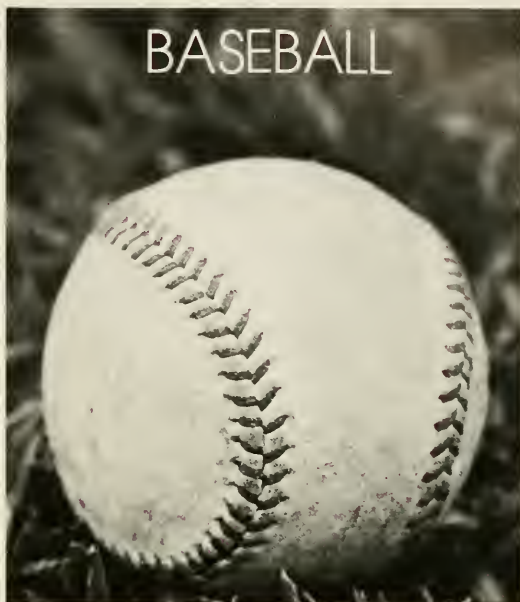

Our teams represent FSC to other schools and communities in various athletic events. Intercollegiate competition helps to instill school spirit, and our intramural program encourages involvement. Involvement is an important part of college life.

Sports participation develops another facet of one's personality. It builds teamwork, cooperation, and spirit. And an athlete's talent is a gift that deserves to be put to use. Florida Southern recognizes this in its encouragement of the athletic program and in its motto, "Not Minds Alone."

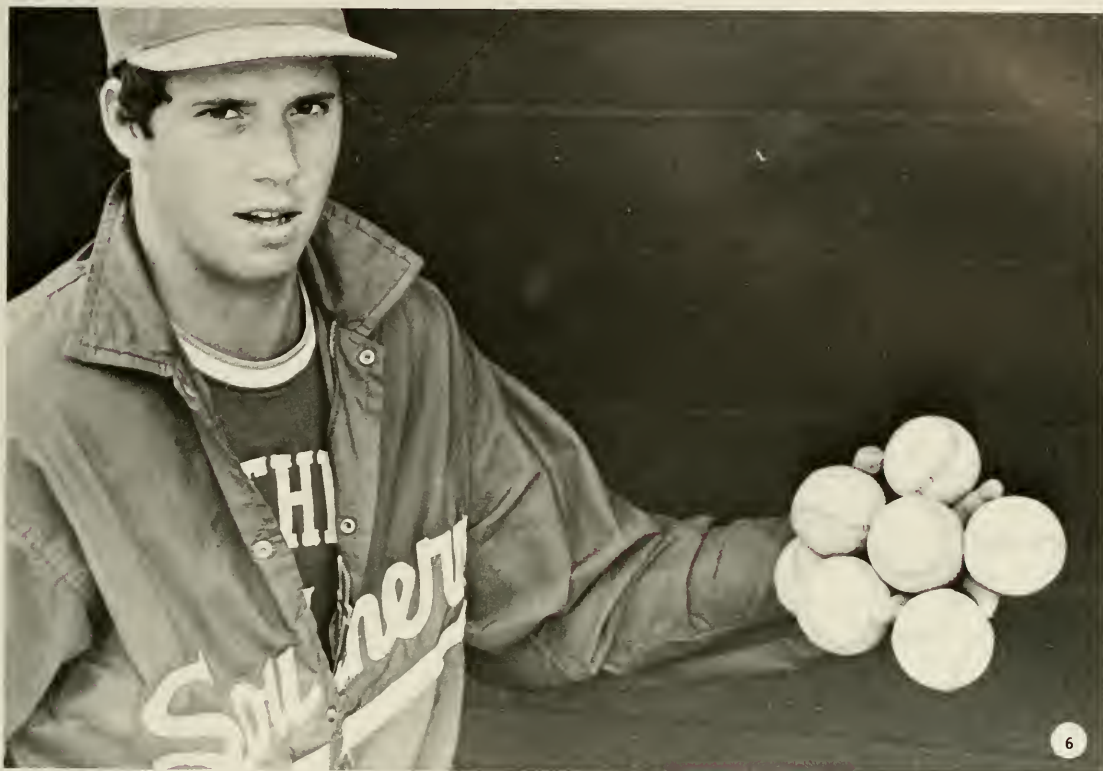

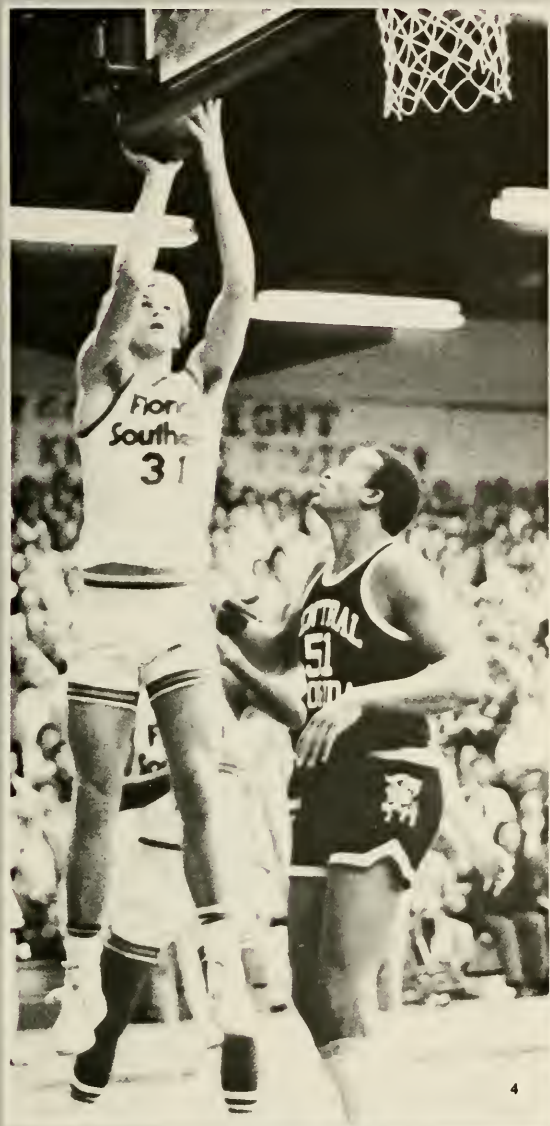

1) John Lee running in to cover third base; 2) Coach Joe Arnold keeps a critical eye on the team during fall practice; 3) The '78-'79 team lead FSC to a division II tournament where they finished # 2 nationally, behind Valdosta State; 4, 5, 6) John Nichols shows his pitching form during warm-up; 7) Hal Smeltzly who has been here at FSC for over 20 years.

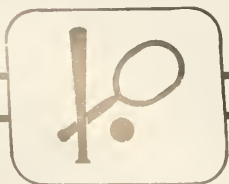

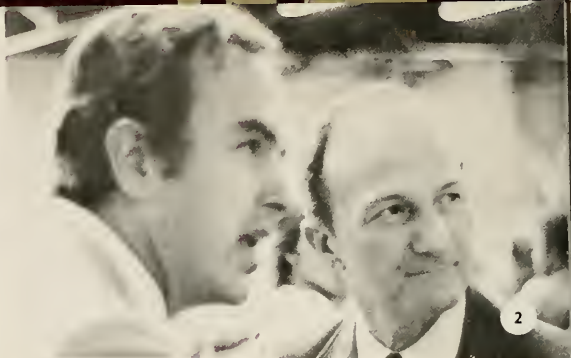

1) The baseball Mocs of '78-'79 finished so far ahead, that, as usual, they entered the Division II National Tournament. The squad finished in second place nationally behind Valdosta State; 2) Mike Piatnik is ready for a catch; 3) Mike Tanzee watches his teammates on the field; 4) FSC gets the opponent out!; 5) Florida Southern slides in just in time; 6) Mike Tanzee stretches his fingers to hold seven baseballs; 7) Craig heads back to the dugout after an inning change.

1) Junior transfer from Westchester State Community College, Felix Tertulien started as a forward for the basketball Mocs this season. Felix proved his worth to the team with consistent high scoring and rebounding. Here, he practices his shooting against a teammate; 2) Leaping captain Kurt Alston tips another one in as Mark King and John Ebeling rush in. The Mocs shocked Division II in this game against the University of Central Florida squad. The Knights were undefeated with a streak of 15 wins when Florida Southern brought up a 96-90 victory; 3) Coach Hal Wissel brought the Moccasins a final record of 18-12 in the '78-'79 season, only his second year at FSC. A Conference record of 10-2 gave the team the Sunshine State Tournament title and led them to host the Southeast Region Tournament, which was eventually won by the University of N. Alabama. Wissel also coached his squad to win Florida Southern's own Citrus Tournament. Wissel declined an offer to coach the University of Utah's Jazz team this summer in order to stay with the "Movin' " Mocs; 4) A Central Florida opponent appears to stand stunned as center for the Moccasins John Ebeling goes up to add two points. John, a sophomore, is a key rebounder for Florida Southern, as well as a consistent high scorer and a provider of height for the team; 5) Loyal Moc fans have increased in number as the team continues to win game after game. Four of this season's games against Division I teams have been held in Lakeland's Civic Center: the University of Florida (a strong win), the University of S. Carolina, the University of S. Mississippi, and Florida State, with attendance close to 4,000.

1) New assistant coach Drew Tucker watches the team's moves in a practice drill with Bob Dolan, Mark King, and Warren Butler. Tucker was captain of the basketball Moccasins during the '78-'79 season; 2) Coach Hal Wissel discusses some of the team's winning tactics with FSC President Robert Davis after a game; 3) Senior point guard Kurt Alston exhibits shooting excellence against a University of Central Florida player. Southern came out ahead of the Knights with a score of 96-90; 4) Newcomer Mike Hayes outreaches a UCF opponent for the jumpball; 5) Brian Radon goes up for a dunk against All-American Bo Clark; 6) John Ebeling, the Macs' top rebounder, anticipates the ball; 7) Kurt takes aim despite strong UCF defense; 8) Precise shooting earned Brian the title of "Most Improved Player" at one point in the season.

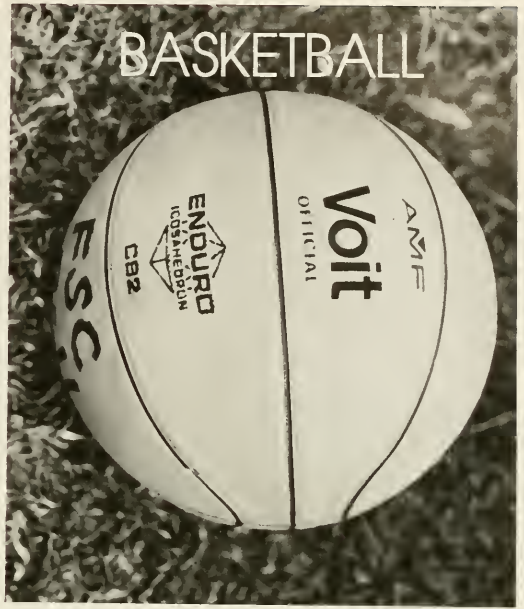

1) Lisa Mason is up for two against Flagler College; 2) 1st row: Mary Dix, Jody Johnson, Lisa Mason. 2nd row: Denise Sanscrainte, Jean Federico, Judy Woloson, Linda Heshner, Sue Kirkwood. 3rd row: Janet Meckstroth, Hallie Keating, Debbie Kanaszka, Kathy Gluth. 4th row: Assistant Coach Charlie, Manager Lissa Lagoni, Manager Jean Vollman, Trainer Chris Bellotto, and Coach Lois Webb; 3) Sue Kirkwood sinks another one; 4) Denise Sanscrainte drives for the basket; 5) Coach Lois Webb noticed a lot of improvement on the Lady Mocs' squad this season; 6) Denise Sanscrainte battles for a jumpball. The Moccasins were surprised about a close win over the University of Miami team, who had held a strong record of wins in their season.

The Mocs were off to a slow start in the '79P'80 season with losses to Madison University, Flagler College, the University of Central Florida, and Florida A & M. Florida Southern had scheduled a tougher season.

Returning to the women's basketball squad were: Seniors Linda Heshner and Kathy Gluth; Debbie Kanaszka, Denise Sanscrainte, Sue Kirkwood, and Janet Meckstroth. New to the team were: Jody Johnson, Judy Woloson, Lisa Mason, Jean Federico, Hallie Keating, and Mary Dix, who was out most of the season with a knee injury. The Moccasins were ranked eighth in the state last season going behind Florida Division II Tournament, but finished fourth behind Florida A & M, Bethune-Cookman, and UCF.

The team's toughest competitors were Division I teams such as Florida State University, and old-time rival the University of Central Florida.

1) Walt Priebe moves in with the ball while Bobby Kramig looks on from the goal; 2) Co-captain Dave Elliot hustles to keep the ball from his opponent; 3) 1st row: Asst. coach Wes Aldrich, Co-captain Don Brady, Kurt Oettl, Damon Yerkes, Phil Cimihello, Fernando Reategui, Dave Elliot, Jim Shoe, Greg Snell, Steve Owen, Butch Nichols, Bobby Kramig. 2nd row: Mark Eady, Bill Ferguson, Ken Schilling, Sean Murphy, John Turnbull, Bill Tucker, George Sechrist, Greg Sylvester, Walt Priebe, Don Hagan, Lyndon Sweeting, Dan McGraw, Don Hays, Kurt Heyman, Mark Mines, Chip Humble; 4) Coach Jim Bush tells Bill Tucker which goal to shoot for; 5) Bobby Kramig deflects a shot while Steve Owen watches; 6) Don Brady, a Co-captain, takes the ball down-field for a goal.

Coming back from a '78-'79 final record of 8-5, the Moccasins faced a schedule of 14 games in the '79-'80 season. Coach Jim Bush and assistant coach Wes Aldrich began by cutting the 39 who tried out for the team down to 26 players and a tough three-hour daily practice at Lakeland's Tigertown. The team had twelve lettermen return from last year's squad. Among the newcomers were Damon Yerkes, Kurt Oetli, Butch Nichols, Mark Mines, Sean Murphy, and Steve Owen.

In the Mocs' first game against Southeastern College, Florida Southern came out ahead with a 5-1 victory. Losses to the University of Tampa and the University of South Florida followed, and a 7-1 win over Valdosta State College finished out September for the team.

Florida Southern played Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University (3-1), the Florida Institute of Technology (2-3, 0-2), and St. Leo College (0-1). After defeating Biscayne College and losing to Eckerd College, the Mocs went to the University of Central Florida in Orlando for the Sunshine State Conference Tournament. Florida Southern lost to UCF in the single-elimination tournament. The team will lose valuable seniors Elliot, Hays, Brady, Sylvester, and Heyman, but anticipates a strong squad in the next season with their talented newcomers of '79-'80.

1) Ken Schilling runs to receive a pass from senior Don Brady in a game against Conference opponent Biscayne College. The soccer Mocs won 3-1; 2) That's playing dirty!; 3) The Mocs chase a head shot made by Biscayne player; 4) Goalie Bobby Kramig follows through with a punt after preventing a goal; 5) Kramig fiercely clutches the ball after stopping a potential score; 6) New to the team, Sean Murphy handles the ball well; 7) Freshman Mark Mines and transfer Wait Priebe join the team in congratulating Greg Sylvester on making a goal. The Mocs made enough goals this season to finish with a 7-7 record and to beat Sunshine State Conference opponent Biscayne College of Miami and the soccer club of University of Florida and Southeastern College (twice).

Fourteen women compete as spiking Mocs in the '79-'80 volleyball season. Six freshmen, Jean Federico, Lisa Mason, Linda Farber, Mary Kay Czajka, Chris Parker, and Holly Keating, have put forth effort to bring the team some very impressive statistics.

The volleyball Moccasins came in second in their own tournament. They worked to rank Florida Southern fourth in the Region, which includes Florida, Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi colleges. The squad also served and blocked its way into a third place ranking among small colleges in the State Division II.

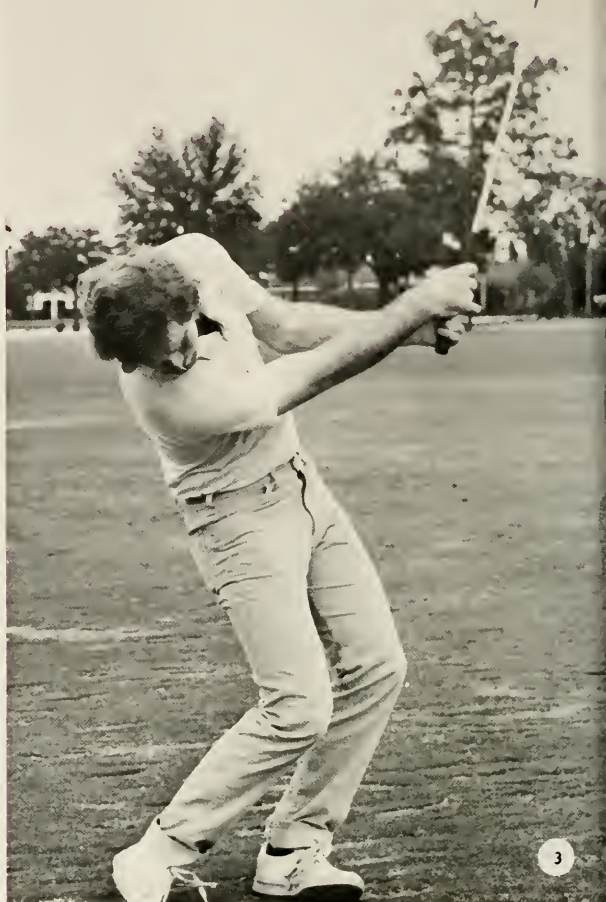

The Lady Mocs competed against the University of Central Florida in Orlando, Tallahassee's Florida State University, and Jacksonville University. The team did very well against UCF, ranked first nationally.

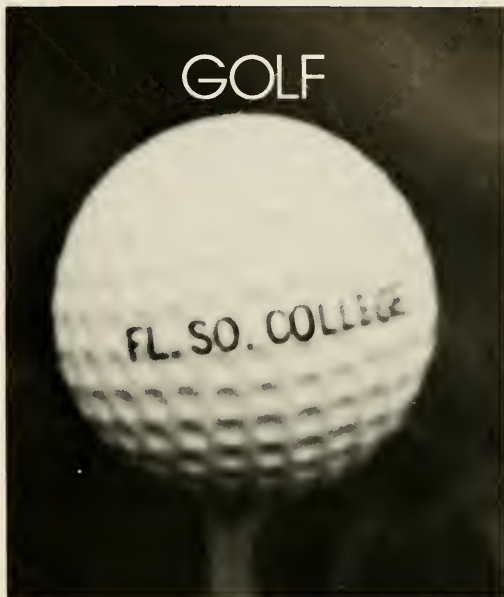

Suzanne Echeverria, now Assistant coach, was a volleyball veteran and '79 graduate from Florida Southern. "Echie" will be working with Coach Lois Webb and the team in the fall to build national champions of the squad.

1) Florida Southern attempts to block a shot from the University of Central Florida team; 2) Freshman Lisa Mason releases between serves; 3) Junior Denise Sansonante covers the spike; 4) Waiting to receive the ball are Kathy Sturm and Toni Woods; 5) 1st row: Joy Pettry, Linda Farber, Linda Hegner, Toni Masienty; 2nd row: Chris Parker, Anabel Teron, Jean Volpman; Denise Sansonante, Lisa Mason; 3rd row: A&J, Coach Suzanne Echeverria, Coach Lois Webb, Toni Woods, Mary Kay Czajka, Kathy Sturm, Holly Keating, Jean Rogers, Jean Federico, Trainer Chris Belafino, Manager Jacki Mullin; 6) Toni Woods and Denise Sansonante watch intently as Toni McGinn posts the ball; 7) Denise Sansonante up for the block against a Jacksonville University player.

The Florida Southern putting Moccasins pulled off some very impressive team victories in the '79-'80 golf season, with a placement of fourth in the Grandfather Mountain (N. Carolina) Tournament. They also brought home a first place win over Division II schools in the Florida Intercollegiate Tournament, and a fourth place position overall. Brian Kramer (77-73-73) came in first, followed by Jim Northrup (73-75-76).

The team travelled to Ohio State, as the only Division II school represented, and they placed 12th. In that tournament Bob Kramer hit a 223, with Tom Patri right behind with a 224. The Moccasins beat N. Carolina, S. Carolina, Clemson, and Kentucky universities.

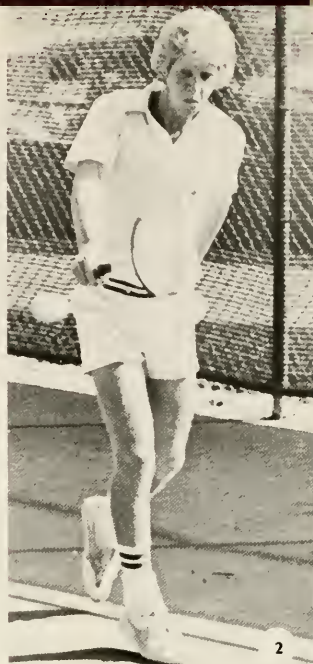

The golfers placed 18th as a team in the Dixie Intercollegiate, with Jim Northrup in 9th place with a 220. The Mocs were in the 13th position at the Grenelefe Tournament, led by Brian and Bob Kramer (230, 231 respectively).

The Florida Southern golf team is presently defending Sunshine State Conference champions, and will compete against Stetson, Rollins, St. Leo, Biscayne, Eckerd, and Flagler colleges to regain the title.

1) Dave McQuade and Jim Northrup at the Lone Palm course; 2) Jim Karr, Brian Kramer, and Steve McKnight helped to bring home trophies; 3) Dave checks for tied shoes during a swing; 4) Bob Kramer, a consistently good player for FSC; 5) 1st row: John Ankenbrandt, Mike Domalske, Paul McManus, Steve McKnight, Bob Kramer, Jack Curran, Tom Patri, Ken George, and Tony Roberto. 2nd row: Coach Charley Matlock, Bob Cloughen, Jim Northrup, Brian Kramer, Jim Karr, Chris Yancey, Bruce Halstead, Bob Lennon, and Jeff Sheehan; 6) Brian Kramer placed 1st in the Florida Intercollegiate; 7) McQuade and Northrup.

1) With his eyes on the approaching ball, 2) Bill Jones hits it, and 3) follows through; 4) Leffie Shackelford awaits a serve; 5) Roger Bunting speeds to return the ball; 6) Tom Waddell is in his second year on the team as a sophomore; 7) Joel Martineau is new to the team this year; 8) Eric Dove attempts to frighten the ball; 9) 1st row: Tom Waddell, Bill Jones, Brian Jeffries, Mark Munson, and Eric Dove, 2nd row: Bob Jagger, Joel Martineau, Keith Kovach, Leffie Shackelford, Bill White, Kai Sabie, and Roger Bunting.

1) Newcomer Lea Snow practices in the team court, 2) Sophomore Betsy Heidenberger has proven her worth to the team in two years of outstanding tennis performance: 3) Cathy Cramer waits for the serve; 4) 1st row: Karri Mann, Cathy Cramer, Beth Darby, Betsy Heidenberger, Anne Podesta, Lea Snow, Carolyn Schmitz, and Alice Stone; 5) Carolyn Schmitz is new to the women's team; 6) Alice Stone reaches to return the ball to her opponent.

The skiing Moccasins have done well in their 1979 season to earn several tournament titles and national recognition. Last spring the team placed second in the Southeast Region, which has about 47 member colleges and universities from N. Carolina, S. Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, and Florida. That loss was to Florida State University.

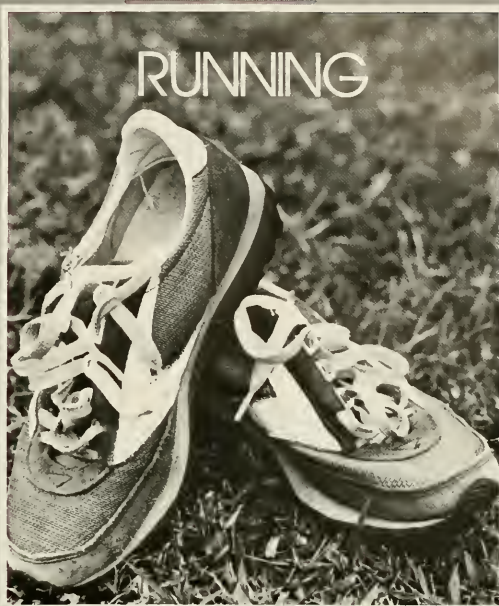

Placing in the Region Tournament earned both Florida Southern and Florida State entrance into the 1st National Intercollegiate Waterski Championship, held in mid-October in Munroe, Louisiana. Here, the Mocs eventually finished in third place nationally overall, ahead of fourth-ranked Florida State. The women's team finished in fourth place, while the men presently lead the nation. Among competing schools were Penn State, Ohio State, and San Diego State universities.

This fall Florida Southern competed in three tournaments against schools in the Region. They lost their own tournament, but won tournaments hosted at Cocoa Beach and St. Petersburg. The ski team hopes that these wins will help to qualify them again for the Regional Tournament in the spring and for the National Tournament next fall.

1) Tommy Usher exhibits his talent on one ski; 2) 1st row: Barbara McCarter, Bonnie McCarter, Coach Linda Stairs, Gin Gray, Betty Gray; 2nd row: Curt Geyer, Walt Harris, Tommy Usher, Brian Malek; Back: Jon Weeder. Not pictured: Tommy Ingram, Jill McCabe, Patty Hutchinson, John Pike, Rob McFarland, Raymond Gonsky; 3) Curt Geyer, ready for an afternoon of skiing.

In its first year of Florida Southern, the cross-country club finished with a record of 10-9. Coach Ed Plowman, of the Sociology Department, with the help of interested students and baseball coach Hal Smeltz, literally got the club off to a running start, eventually to win three first places. The running Moos were winners of the Florida Southern Invitational, the Southeastern College Invitational, and the Florida College Invitational.

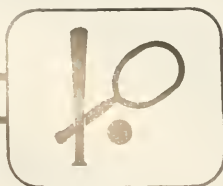

The club, headed by co-captains Jon Johnston and George Price, also participated in the United Way Lake-to-Lake run, and had three of their runners place in the top ten finishers. They ran in Fun Runs with the basketball team, and kept up on a 2-3 laps per day routine around Lake Hallingsworth. The club hopes that interest will continue in running competition in years to come.

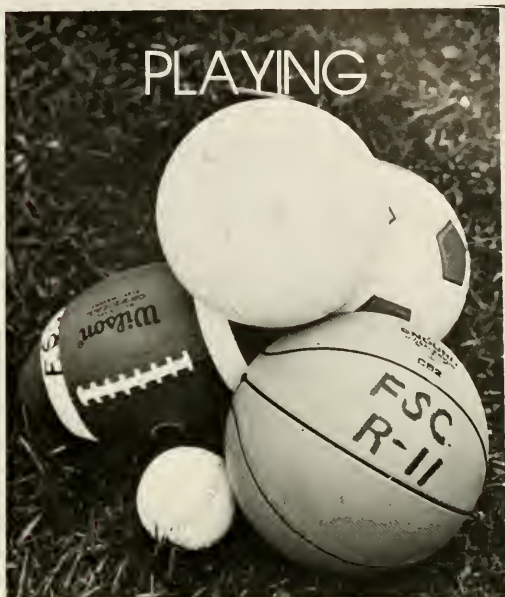

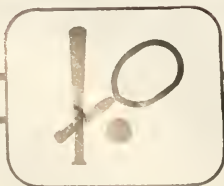

The cheering Moccasins began this season a little nervously, with new stunts and an enlarged squad. The cheerleaders were anxious to build up the spirit that had helped to take the basketball team to a No. 1 place in the Conference last year. There are now eight men, eight women, and four alternates, who worked about five hours a week to learn routines from the University of South Florida and the University of Florida. They have new uniforms, more spirit, and work more with the Moccettes and Coach Wissel. They have been involved with fund-raising, cheered during vacations, and attended all in-state games. New to the squad, 1) Leslie Hayworth and senior Job York; 2) Returning to the team, Donna Parkman, and newcomer Curt Geyer; 3) Kim Farmer, Donna Parkman, and Sandy Estep have all returned to support the basketball Mocs; 4) Kim Farmer and Scott Allen; 5) Alternates Karen Stephens and Robbin Achille warm up before the first game of the year, while talking with Kim; 6) New cheerleader Robbin Achille, a freshman; 7) Captain Sanna Sellars, who has cheered for the Mocs for three years, with newcomer Steve Hare; 8) 1st row: Captain Sanna Sellars, Kim Farmer, Donna Parkman, Nancy Custer, Sandy Estep. 2nd row: Job York, Bob Smith, Curt Geyer, Chris Kokomoor, Steve Hare. 3rd row: Leslie Hayworth, Karen Penn, Monica Baker, Robbin Achille, Karen Stephens. 4th row: Scott Allen, Carlos Secane, Pete Rowan, John Armatas, and Tommy Ingram.

ADMINISTRATION

GUIDING AND DIRECTING

Florida Southern specifies its character and purpose as follows:

Academic excellence —

The College is committed to providing the resources necessary to sustain a superior academic experience, and to promoting an atmosphere of free inquiry in which the human heritage may be investigated and the truth served.

Christian Perspective — The College is committed to those values and ideals which inhere in the Christian tradition and seeks to nurture in the total college community a deepening understanding of and dedication to those values as the basis of its corporate life.

Personal Development —

The College encourages its students to cultivate a sense of self-worth, to realize their capacities for independent thinking, to learn to cope with advancing societal change, to make intelligent choices, and to develop convictions worthy of their highest commitment.

Responsible Citizenship —

The College is concerned that its students be prepared and encouraged to become responsible citizens in a democratic society, in the home, the church, the community, and in national and world affairs.

Vocational Choices —

The College assists students in making vocational choices, and seeks to equip them with the knowledge and skills necessary for professional practice, as well as to provide preparation for additional specialization in their chosen fields.

In striving to achieve its purpose, Florida Southern is guided and directed by dedicated people known to the student body as the Administration and the Trustees. Behind all the major decisions made for the college as a whole, there are hours and hours of study, discussion, and heart-, mind-, and soul-searching, seeking that answer which may best meet the changing needs of the Florida Southern Community. To these individuals we owe our fine reputation of academic excellence, our opportunity to learn beyond that which the text books teach, and the solid ground beneath our feet as we step out from the College to meet the world.

Although most students are well acquainted with the administration, they generally have less contact with the Trustees. To our Board of Trustees we extend a special word of thanks. The Trustees

SCHOLARS

KNOWLEDGE IS A FUNDAMENTAL PART OF WISDOM

Academics — from Math 106 to Prophetic Thought, we are at Florida Southern College to learn, to gain a liberal arts education. Generally, we spend 12-18 hours a week in classes, and our scholastic growth is the most basic part of our education. From it we acquire the knowledge with which to pursue those goals. It provides a springboard from which we begin our search for wisdom, for knowledge is a fundamental part of wisdom.

In the course of the years we spend at Southern, we see our knowledge and our capacity for knowledge constantly growing. As freshmen, most of us face being away from home for the first time on top of the "newness" of academic life. We must adjust to classes that meet only two or three times a week, to taking more notes than ever before, to having only two or three exams a semester, to convo., etc . . . The list goes on and on. And naturally, the classes are not always the most exciting that Southern has to offer. We are caught up in the blending of social life and academic life and in being responsible for ourselves. It is a fun year; we manage and we learn.

And then we are sophomores and are faced with "sophomore slump." At least we know to carry our IDs to the cafe for absolutely no longer than one week, and we know to use stage directions in finding our convo seats. We begin to work in our major courses while finishing up our CORE. And we have sophomore tests to which we can look forward!

That rite of passage completed, we become juniors. CORE out of the way, we submerge ourselves in our majors and discover that classes really can be interesting. At times it seems as if we live in our various departmental buildings: Drama majors can be found in Buckner Theater, Business majors in Edge Hall, and Communications majors in . . . well, wherever the Communications department happens to be at the time. We find J.A.'s and R.A.'s in our ranks, and we become eligible for honorary fraternities.

And finally, we become seniors. "Senioritis" often sets in, but we deserve our moment of glory. Our schedules are often all major courses or all electives, and there comes that semester when we don't have to pre-register — no more SIF's! Senior tests loom in the foreground, but those thoughts are mellowed by thoughts of graduation and the future. Resumes become a common topic of discussion, and life in general becomes a little more serious.

Regardless of our stage, our years at Southern are pleasant ones, and our academic growth is enriched by having been a part of Florida Southern College.

ART DRA

Some call them blow-off majors. All you have to do is draw a few pictures or memorize a few lines, right? Wrong!

What about the soul searching followed by long, tiring hours striving for that perfect finishing touch? Or what about the back-breaking hours spent painting the theater floor, building flats, or applying dutchman? Who could forget "Slavecraft 101?" What about the rehearsals that continue until you get it right and the agonizing that goes into fully developing each character?

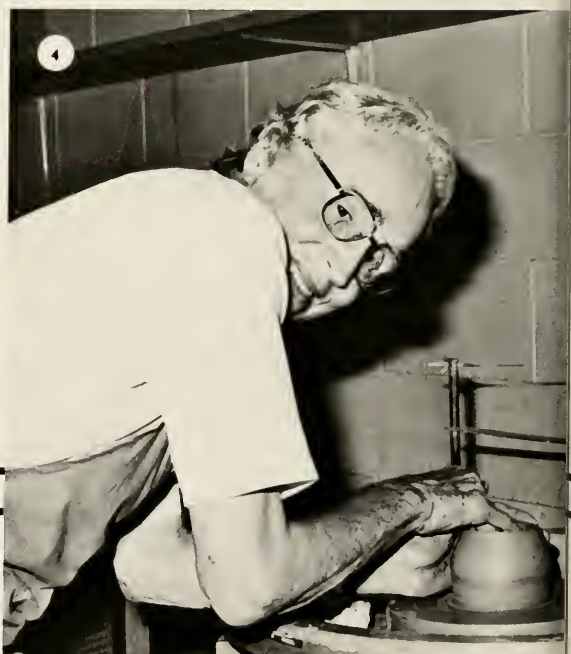

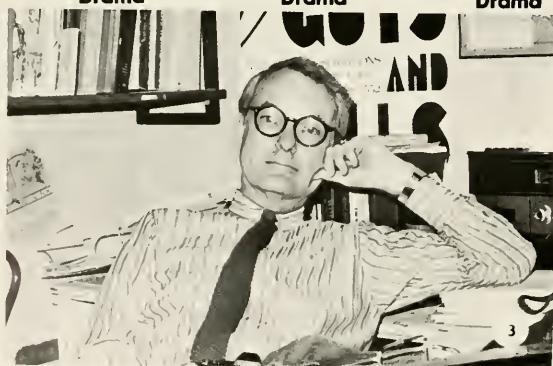

The major in Art or Drama must put himself on the line — no handy formulas, no right or wrong answers. It's strictly the artist and his medium, a solitary search for truth.

WHERE SUPPLY MEETS DEMAND

It has been said that one-half of all the students at Florida Southern study Business as either a major or a minor. The reason is that no matter what your field of work, the idea of free market enterprise so influences everything we do in this country that a background in it truly rounds out one's liberal arts education. Also included with the Business Management major are the Accounting and Economics disciplines. Business Law is investigated because a knowledge of such practices is essential for success in the field of Business. Marketing covers a wide-range of information, also important to the student of Business who intends to make it a career upon graduation. Math is involved in the graph work in MicroEconomics. The majors discover that equilibrium is found where supply meets demand. Free market enterprise is the mainstay of business. The fact that we have the ability to go into private enterprise is what sets America apart and makes our economic system both unique and workable. The Business major studies Decision Theory, as well as Investments. Receiving and reading the Wall Street Journal daily is a requirement of many classes. Theories of economics and corporate practices are discussed and the student of Business Management learns how he can become an asset, rather than a liability, to whatever company he is involved with. The major incorporates practices of organization and personnel management, learning to get the highest productivity from those who work for him. Opportunities in the field are endless, because the world in which we live is a business-oriented world. But the challenges are ever-present, as the major seeks to understand more and more fully the system of enterprise in which all of us are involved.

SPECIALIZED FORM OF FARMING

The study of Citrus and Horticulture involves learning about all aspects of botany, agriculture and commercial production. Florida Southern is located in an area in which citrus is a main supply of income. Farming in any form is a science within itself, and citrus production is a highly specialized form of farming. A study of citrus means seeking a full understanding of this kind of farming. All the steps in commercial fruit production must be evaluated and studied. Problems that face the citrus farmer are also evaluated, and possible solutions are experimented with. Management is investigated as today's farmer must also be efficient in this area. Horticulture is a second form of specialized farming. It involves landscape, floriculture and, again, the commercial slant, primarily in nursery practices. Both disciplines are essential in a day when we are placing particular import on understanding the land and vegetation that make up our world. For only in this understanding can we learn the art of using them to their fullest potential in providing what is needed for the survival of mankind in generations to come. There is much work to be done in these two fields, and a formal education in Citrus and Horticulture such as that offered here at Florida Southern prepares its graduates to take part in that work. Research against disease, increased production levels due to better management, discoveries on how to better the soil, all are part of the opportunities that await those who study the discipline of Citrus and Horticulture.

LEARNING, TO TELL THE WORLD

Communications is no longer the study of how to write the least amount of words in the least amount of space, being careful not to offend anyone, tell any secrets, or miss any deadlines. The deadlines are still every bit as important and every bit as threatening. But virtually everything else has changed or is undergoing change as the profession of Communications strives to meet the need of a fast-paced world. It has become a complicated system of relaying information made even more complicated by the question of the people's right to know, the press's right to print, and the government's right to withhold. Also present are issues of ethics, moral obligation, and the gray areas of law that have not, and seemingly cannot be defined. Mass communications in all forms has far surpassed the limits of the small town newspaper and has taken on the world. With modern technology, man can communicate with man over thousands of miles instantaneously. Via radio and telecommunication virtually hundreds of millions of people can participate in one event simultaneously. The world of Communications has become a highly competitive one. Striving to achieve excellence in a field where excellence is essential, all aspects of communication are studied: writing, editing, photography, layout, VDT (video display terminal) technology, broadcasting, advertising, public relations, media law. Understanding the art of mass communication is learning to tell the world about itself. And it is understanding the electronics, technology, theories, and hard work that it takes to get the message across.

SEEKING TO REACH

The study of Education is the study of the art of teaching. Those involved in the pursuit of this discipline are concerned with finding those methods of teaching which are most effective to a wide range of students. Many majors involved in Education specialize in one area such as teaching children with Specific Learning Disabilities (SLD). Trends in teaching and new theories of communicating ideas are examined and incorporated wherever possible. School curriculum is studied, as is Business Education. Field work is a part of every major's program. Practical experience in any field is one of the most valuable forms of learning and Education is no exception. The majors work with trained teachers, and then on their own. They discover methods of handling a class, retaining discipline while still teaching effectively. They act and react to situations drawing from the information gathered in previous lecture and discussion classes. Always seeking to reach the unreachable child with a new bit of knowledge, the education major continues in the course of study that has become a life goal.

TRADING THOUGHTS AND IDEAS

English. Spanish. French. German. Language is defined as human speech, written or spoken. It is a vital part of our existence. The study of a language involves the study of a culture and a people as well. As such, it not only opens new doors to communication, but it also furthers understanding of a world made up of a diversity of people, set apart by the differences in custom, values, and education. The study of English is the study of that means of communication which we claim as our own. But it is a study which is by no means made easier by the fact that it is the language we have grown up with. A language is an intricate, complicated system of trading thoughts and ideas. Few use the system correctly. This is also true in foreign language. The study of Spanish, French, or German is a study that allows an individual to communicate with and understand another individual of that native language. It is an understanding that comes not only from the knowledge of vocabulary and grammar, but also from the knowledge of the history and lifestyle of that person. Communication in a particular language demands that use of the language be correct and complete. The art of writing is as essential as the art of speaking. The study of a language means the study of the great literary works in that language as well. Writing, reading, speaking, opening our minds to new cultures and new ideas ... all are part of the language major.

THE SCIENCE OF LIVING

Physical Education brings into focus that which is often forgotten at school where intellect is the primary pursuit. "Not minds alone," means that there is more to growing and learning and becoming complete individuals than just expanding our mental capacity to think and to understand. An important part of who we are is our physical being. Physical Education is the study of how to achieve goals physically, calling upon our bodies to act and react skillfully and with endurance, building health which affects all other aspects of our lives. Anatomy and dietetics are studied, along with rules and requirements and teaching methods for sports and dance. Jogging becomes aerobics, "the science of living and breathing in air." Participation in athletics gives the individual not only a greater understanding of himself, but also an understanding of his teammate or opponent. He begins to recognize strengths in himself that he can depend upon, as well as weaknesses that he must improve upon. Competition is a challenge, and inspires the players to continually look for ways to improve. Mental gymnastics are incorporated as well as physical ones, as a knowledge of the body is essential to success in this field. Strategy is always used in competition, and here again the key is knowing the players and the game played. Physical Education majors strive to bring together learning and training in an effort to understand the potential that is locked within the physical makeup of man.

THE RICHNESS OF HERITAGE

It has been said that the people who do not study their own history are doomed to repeat its failures. History is the record of where we have been, what we have done, who we were in the past. It is the richness of heritage, the pride in the courage of forefathers, the privilege of viewing a society's actions in retrospect. To understand our history more fully is to understand ourselves more fully. To understand the history of other nations is to understand how those people thought and acted in years gone by, and then even to predict how they will think and act in the future. This is where Political Science takes its place next to the study of History. This discipline seeks to understand the workings of government at all levels, the negotiations of world powers that affect all our lives. Political Science studies the mindset of other nations, and evaluates our relationship with them. It investigates how government works for the people, and how the people can work for the government. History and Political Science teach how it happened in the past, how it is happening now, and in what ways it can happen more effectively in years to come.

A PROCESS OF THINKING

The derivative of a quotient is the denominator times the derivative of the numerator minus the numerator times the derivative of the denominator over the denominator squared. Students of Mathematics know this maxim from their days in Calculus I. There is something within the mind that obtains satisfaction from taking a problem, proceeding through logical steps, and arriving at a solution that is concrete and tangible. Mathematics is a discipline in which there are answers, not just questions. But if it is the concrete and tangible which draw students into a study of Mathematics, it is not long before they find they must also deal in the abstract. They also learn that even in this day of computer technology and miniature calculators, much of the computing and calculating must be done in their heads. Each class presents the challenge to incorporate new information and draw from procedures already learned. It is a progressive accumulation of knowledge valuable not only to specialized career choices, but also to mathematical problems that present themselves daily in our world of business and technology. A study in mathematics prepares the graduate to face the demands of research work, teaching, commercial enterprise, and economic understanding, as well as many others. Mathematics involves a process of thinking, as well as a numerical understanding of our world.

A MODE OF SELF EXPRESSION

For ages mankind has used music as a mode of self expression, an outlet of creativity. Music forms a vehicle of worship, an avenue of communication. It is an art and a science. Music is a universally enjoyed experience, but few listeners actually know why it is so pleasing. The study of music is the study of those sounds and groups of sounds that can be combined into an effective pattern. An understanding of theory and composition is essential for the serious music student to more fully understand that instrument or aspect of music in which he has decided to concentrate his studies. The composition of music, the theory, is a math within itself. Strict guidelines must be adhered to until the basics are mastered. Only then is creativity allowed to move on its own, and it is then that the wonder of this form of art and communication takes on all the dimensions that make it so unique. Also part of the study of music is the performance. Preparation is intensive, whether individual or group. The musician learns to handle pressure and the reactions of an audience while still maintaining his professionalism as he performs. Learning to incorporate proficiency on piano, experience on various other instruments, practice in directing, varied forms of composition, the history of music, and participation in ensembles, the music major gains an understanding of the complexity and limitless possibilities of his study. As in any art where creativity and expression play such an essential part, the music major is bound only by the limits of his own imagination.

WORKING WITH PEOPLE

Psychology is Sociology on an individual basis. Sociology is Psychology on a community basis. Both disciplines deal with understanding the mind, and both involve counselling. Neither is a new field, yet each has gained important recognition in recent times. Students of Psychology and Sociology strive to gain understanding as to the workings of human thought and reason. What sort of things make us act the way we do? Why do we play tricks on our own minds? Why do we handle relationships the way we do? Why do people play the games people play? Majors of these two fields seek the answers to such questions. The study of psychology involves understanding oneself before one can truly seek to understand someone else. In exploring the inner workings of the human mind, the student begins to catch a glimpse of the complexity of such workings, to catch a glimpse of the complexity of the study itself. In studying psychology, experiments are a major source of information. Rats are used in lab work. Conclusions are drawn, and are used to conceive new experiments, or to help solve already recognized problems. The Sociology major uses surveys as a study method, to understand the mind of various populations. Field work is promoted in the study of sociology. Often work is on cases of home or parole board. It is here that the sociology major puts theories into practice. But more importantly it is here that the Sociology major learns the most about working with people, about their hopes and fears, about their needs, and how they can best be met. For the Psychology and Sociology major the most important aspect of their study is people, understanding them, and developing the skill of helping them help themselves.

A ROAD TO UNDERSTANDING

Religion majors are involved in studies which require not only an intellectual understanding of new and re-thought ideas, but also an in-depth examination of beliefs long held sacred. The study of religion is a study of the beliefs of others as well as our own. But the main emphasis is on Christianity, what it means to the individual, the church, and the world. Methods of teaching are examined in a specialized area of religion known as Christian Education. Christianity has a long and intricate history, contained largely in the Old and New Testaments of the Bible. Understanding exactly what is written, what it meant in the day of the writer and what it means now, is the challenge. But in order to progress from stage one to a deeper, more effective knowledge that understanding is crucial. So in the study of religion, various roads to understanding are examined, and the student finds in his own experience which is most valuable. Also examined in the study of religion is the church's influence on history and on society today. The philosophy of religion is looked into, as well as the theological themes that are found in literature. Archeology is one of mankind's methods for discovering more facts and figures concerning the children of Yahweh in ages past. Christian ethics, which has a history of long debate and elusive conclusions, is looked into and applied to the student's own life. Various books of the Bible are studied in depth, with emphasis on exegetical work. This gives the student of religion the opportunity to incorporate what he has learned about understanding and interpreting scripture, and also allows him to use his own insight and knowledge of God the Creator, God the Son, and God the Spirit. Within the framework of religion classes, discussions are held that further expand thought. Although the pursuit is intellectual, it does not end there. Beyond intellect there is, in this study, the element of faith that prompts the student of religion to reach for heights of understanding yet unobtained.

THE UNENDING JOURNEY TO UNDERSTAND

The study of Science is one in which answers create more questions, and those questions are sometimes unanswerable. But not forever. The challenge in the disciplines of science stem from the fact that science is always changing, becoming more complete. But in that very act we realize how little we really know, and how much more information there is to be obtained. Biology, Chemistry, Physics . . . the study of nature and unwritten truths . . . the unending search to understand all the Universe, how God made it and how it works . . . all are part of the pursuit of science. In the long, low halls of Polk Science mysteries are revealed and secrets are unlocked. Students learn more about the world we live in and how man fits in as a whole. The discipline is thorough, investigating all, from the lowly single-celled wonders to the ever reaching heavens of astronomy lab. The massive construction of earth seen in geology is related to the inviolable laws gleaned from physics. All mediums are employed in the quest to discover. The Science student is involved in large lecture classes, smaller study sessions, labs, labs, labs, and labs. For many of the majors work in these areas is only preliminary work to the study of medicine or research that will follow. All forms of life are examined, from botony to human anatomy. Conservation is also looked into, as it is essential to our survival on this planet we call home. Animal physiology is studied, as well as microbiology and atomic and nuclear science.

The Science student seeks to be knowledgeable in various areas, as all are interrelated. The search for answers goes on.

$5.95 BUYS A MAN'S ALL-WOOL SUIT.

Made from Remnants of our finest cloth that cost from $3.00 to $8.00 a yard. Equal every way to regular $18.00 and $25.00 made to measure suits.

OUR RECENT INVENTORY showed an accumulation of over 3,000 remnants of genuine imported English Casimere and Scotch Thistle cloth that cost $3.00 to $8.00 a yard. In each of which there was just enough cloth to make a man's suit. Expert cutters and skilled tailors have made these clothes up into such suits that are equal in every respect to our $18.00 and $25.00 suits to order. They are expertly lined with extra heavy serge and Parker satin, elegantly piped with genuine silver or satin, lined with pure silk and linen thread and fit to perfection. They come in medium and dark shades, and in beautiful fancy patterns and neat checks of handsome designs, new colorings and styles, patterns from the most famous towns in the world. Remember these clothes cost $2.00 to $6.00 a yard and were made in our $18.00 and $25.00 suits to order. Our price $5.95 doesn't cover the cost of the cloth alone, to say nothing of the tailoring, cutting and finishing.

OUR GUARANTEE We can't send samples because we need all the cloth that such remnants contained to make a suit. However, you have our binding guarantee that the suits are exactly as represented and worth three times $5.95.

SEND NO MONEY but send this ad with your height, weight, chest, waist and crotch measure, state whether you wish a medium or dark color, and if a check or fancy pattern is desired. We'll send the suit by express C.O.D. and allow you to examine and try it on before you pay one cent. If exactly as represented, the most wonderful value you ever saw, and equal to the $18.00 suits that others sell, then pay the express agent $5.95 and postage and take the suit. Pay nothing if unsatisfactory and he will return it at our expense.

IMC/Florida is minerals, chemicals, environment, people.

Minerals. IMC produces more phosphate than any other company in the world. Annual capacity of over 13 million tons is 25 percent of U.S., and 10 percent of world output. IMC's Port Sutton terminal on Tampa Bay can export five million tons annually to major world markets.

Chemicals. New Wales Chemicals, Inc., a subsidiary, operates the world's largest concentrated phosphate chemicals fertilizer plant. It also produces phosphate-based animal feed ingredients.

Fertilizers. Three plants offer a complete line of fertilizers for mid-Florida ranches, farms and groves, lawns and gardens.

Environment. IMC recharges and recycles millions of gallons of water per day. New disciplines augment air quality controls, and expedite recovery of retaining ponds in a program that has reclaimed thousands-out of mined-out acres.

Development. IMC Development Corporation, a land management subsidiary, has 35,000 acres in ranchland, 3,000 acres in citrus, plus major residential and commercial properties.

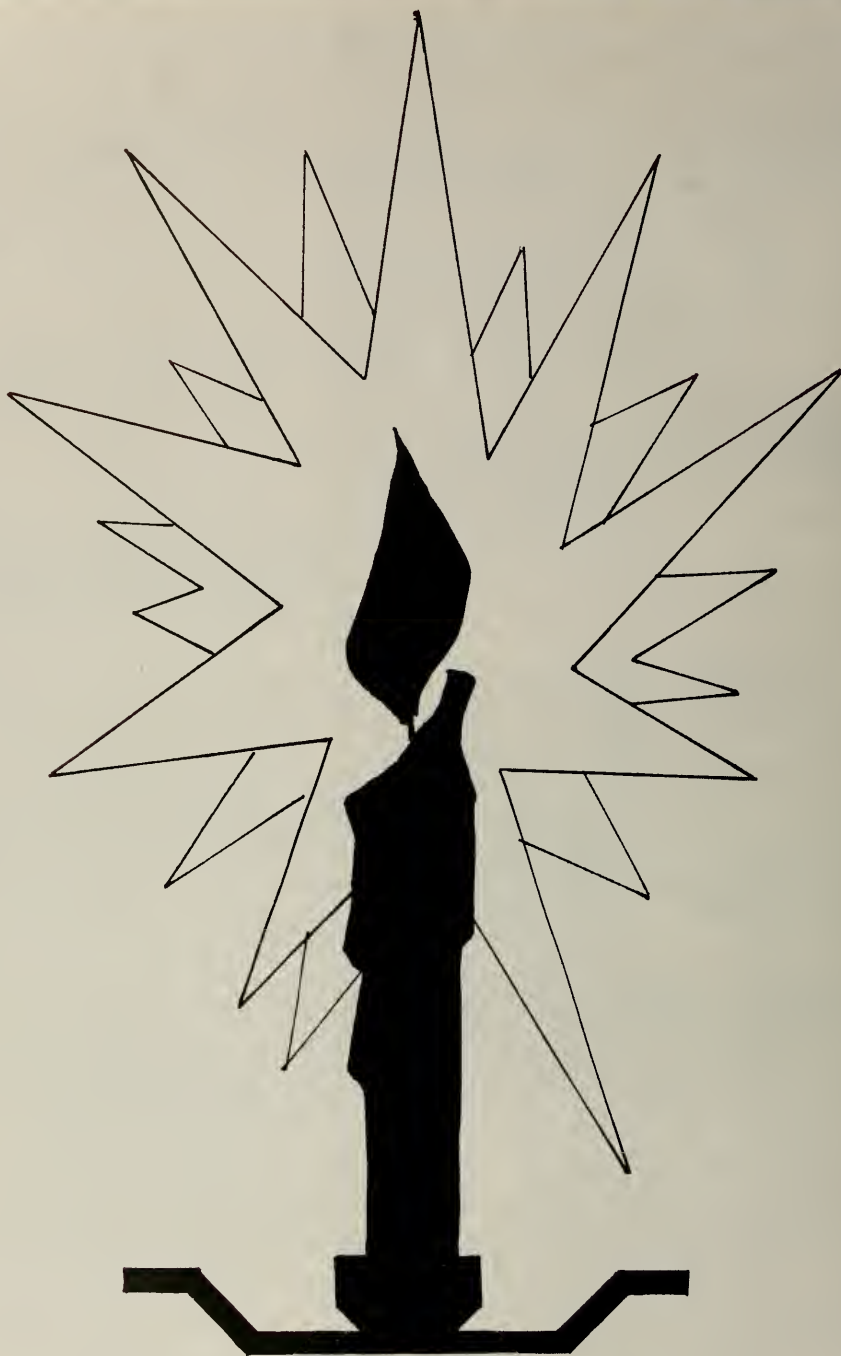

People. More than 2,500 IMC employees contribute to mid-Florida's economy. Their talents and innovative efforts signal IMC's environmental/operational progress. They care about mid-Florida, just as you do. Not just how it lives, but how well it lives, too.

OMEGA

IN THE SUMMER OF OUR JOURNEY WE BEGIN TO BUILD

Omega. The end. The closing of the yearbook. The end of the year. But we hope that Interlachen 1980 will represent a beginning rather than an ending for you. It is a beginning to understand our search for knowledge and wisdom and to understand ourselves.

Our years at Florida Southern College are a part of the ongoing search. These years are marked not only by midterms, finals and vacations, but also by our growth. Our education is not limited to classes and books, for we learn through doing, or at least trying. Seeing ... reaching ... touching ... being; each is a vital part of the process. We find ourselves in a period of transition, and college provides a chance to explore. Most of us come questioning to Southern, and though we don't find all of the answers, we manage to find some meaning in our world. Each day is a step toward fuller understanding.

Looking back over the year, the days fade into one another, and we are left with a college of memories. There were the times when we hurt so much that we knew we couldn't take another step. There were the moments of lonely despair when it seemed that the world just didn't care, and we wondered why we bothered with it all. But we kept on and were invigorated by those days when everything went right, and we knew that we could conquer the world. Mostly, though, there were the in-between days, the routine days that tied it all together. With those days came a surge of strength when we realized that we had coped with everything.

In remembering, we gain the satisfaction of at least partially having discovered who and what we are. We realize that there are untapped depths within us. We have travelled this far in our journey and are prepared to meet the next stage. We have touched God, and He has touched us.

Now we have reached the summer of our journey. As we leave Southern, whether for the summer or for good, we take with us many memories. We will head off in different directions, but we will always carry with us the sense of community that is Florida Southern College. Primarily, though, we will take the knowledge that we have gained, and hopefully, we will have the ability to build from it.

For from that ability comes wisdom. And in discovering wisdom, we find that for which we have been searching — we find ourselves, and we find our God.

"The first thing is to acquire wisdom; gain understanding though it cost you all you have ...

Ω

"Do not forsake her, and she will keep you safe; love her and she will guard you ...

"Cherish her, and she will lift you high; if only you embrace her, she will bring you to honour ...

Ω

"She will set a garland of grace on your head and bestow on you a crown of glory." Proverbs 4:7-9
